

You may have graduated, but...

You can still have invaluable access to the latest thinking in management, technology and industry.

Your Alumni Library Online gives you:

- Premium open access to online resources – thousands of free full-text articles, reports and theses.
- Links to subject-specific resources - a collection of links to free, high quality websites selected by our information specialists to support your personal development.
- Mendeley - a free library reference-building tool.
- Access to CERES and CORD – Cranfield's research repositories of articles, papers and research data.
- Online support for conducting your own research via SAGE Research Methods Online.

Cranfield alumni have free access to thousands of articles, reports, research papers and publications that can help you:

- Find information to support job hunting and interview preparation.
- Keep up-to-date in your chosen topic.
- Learn about new areas of research and current trends.
- Develop your employability skills.
- Keep in touch with what Cranfield are doing.
- Seek advice on conducting your own research.

Access your Alumni Library Online
www.cranfield.ac.uk/alumni

E: alumni@cranfield.ac.uk T: +44 (0)1234 754456

Cranfield University

Looking for someone?

The Alumni Directory is a great way to reconnect with friends and classmates from Cranfield or grow your professional network.

You can use the Alumni Directory at any point in your career - when you're just starting out, making connections in a new city, researching a potential new employer, or considering a career change. Alternatively, simply use it to grow your existing professional network.

Many of our alumni are willing to:

- Share valuable information about their successful careers.
- Offer advice regarding the cities where they live and work.
- Provide insight into the companies and organisations they work for.

Update your details

Access your Alumni Directory and update your contact details
www.cranfield.ac.uk/alumni

"Whenever I pick up the phone to fellow Cranfield alumni I always find warm, interested people who genuinely want to help each other. It's reassuring knowing someone is there to guide you when you need it."

Sarah Willingham (MBA 2003),
Serial entrepreneur and former
Dragon on Dragons' Den, BBC TV

E: alumni@cranfield.ac.uk T: +44 (0)1234 754456